Product Specification

While not showering for days on end, only eating food that comes out of cans and heading out bush with a shovel when “nature calls” is all part of the fun of roughing it, having a bad night’s sleep can make any veteran camper dream of their bed at home....

I can tell you that a comfortable bed at night is one of the most important aspects to ensuring you enjoy your adventures and don’t head home early. Sometimes finding a soft place to set up your swag or tent is next to impossible. Anyone who’s had to sleep on rocks can tell you that unless you’re travelling with a pillowtop mattress, you’re going to feel the ground all night.

The ARB Stretcher can be used either on its own or underneath your swag to provide instant comfort. The quick-fold design means you can set up in a snap, giving you more time to relax and enjoy your surrounds. The ARB Stretcher’s strong steel construction provides support for up to 150 kilograms and its anti-rock feature keeps you steady and still for the entire night.

An included strap with hooks secures your swag to the stretcher via the peg down points on the head end of your ARB swag and by using the included pack up/roll up straps sewn into the ARB swag you can secure the base.

The quick-connect boot bag, supplied standard with the ARB Stretcher, keeps your boots and other essential items off the ground and safe from creepy crawlies. When you’re finished, the ARB Stretcher packs up quickly and easily, and stores into its rugged storage bag ready for your next adventure.

Pictogram of Swag strap usage

Use the pack up/roll up straps that are included/sewn on the ARB Skydome swag to secure your swag to foot end of stretcher. Use strap with hooks included with stretcher (below in red), to secure head section of swag to stretcher. The straps only have to be firm, do not over tighten the straps.
